Public To Tour Signal Depot

TOBYHANNA SIGNAL DEPOT will throw open its gates Saturday and Sunday to give the public in this area a full-scale view of the "Power for Peace" armed forces program.

Top attractions during the two-day "Armed Forces Day" open house will be these:

The world premiere performance of the Signal Corps' brand-new, never-before-demonstrated "Creeping People."

The area public premiere of the great new Air Force TM-61 "Matador" Tactical Missile.

A "See Yourself on Television" display calculated to draw the eyes and faces of all those who walk near it.

The Depot itself—the largest and most modern Signal Corps installation of its kind in the world.

Summary

Col. Robert C. Angster, commanding officer at the Depot, said last night that the array of exhibits and actual demonstrations will provide an accurate and concise summary of the overall U. S. objective of "Power for Peace."

Cooperating with the Depot are the various communities—including Monroe County—which surround the giant Signal Corps installation.

The Depot open house will be similar in operation to those conducted last year.

Gates will be opened to the hundreds of visitors at 10 a. m. on both days. Depot officials anticipate about 20,000 guests over the weekend.

Appointed hostesses—both military and civilian—will greet the visitors at the Administration Building, the mammoth X-shaped structure which serves as the heart of the Depot's operations. All three floors of this building will be filled with exhibits and displays.

Tours

Visitors will also tour the maintenance division, storage division and the Depot's new packaging standards center where the latest techniques in packaging and testing will be shown.

Some of the displays will be familiar to local residents who visited the large "Tobyhanna Days" display set up in Stroudsburg by the Depot. Included among these are the "Moon Radar" demonstrator; the working scale model electronics display of MPQ Counter-Mortar Radar; other displays showing work done within the Depot.

But the vast majority of the material to be seen will be completely new to local residents.

The newest of the devices—and by far the most technically fascinating—will be the "Matador." This model, the latest in the series of guided missiles developed for use of the U. S. Air Force, will probably turn out to be the "star of the show," Depot officials indicate.

The "Matador" is 50 feet long, 31 feet wide and over 15 feet high. Towering over human beings, the "Matador" is a completely electronically-controlled "pilotless bomber."

During tests it has proved itself to be one of the most successful of all guided missiles thus far developed for use in broad-range warfare.

It is jet-propelled and is designed for surface-to-surface operations according to Air Force officials. The "Matador" is capable of carrying an atomic warhead.

At the Depot's "Armed Forces Day" open house symposium of the organization group, U. S. Air Force from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, will be on hand to explain the "Matador" to the viewing public.

Rhee Wins Third Term In Korea

SEOUL, South Korea, Wednesday, May 16 (AP)—Syngman Rhee today won his third term as president of South Korea on the basis of incomplete but conclusive re-election.

But the President, 81, was trailing a dead candidate in a surprisingly heavy protest vote in the capital city of Seoul itself.

With 3,090,700 ballots counted over the nation—almost half of the vote cast—Rhee had a commanding margin over ex-Communist Cho Bong Am, his only live opponent.

Returns

National police said unofficial returns counted by 7:30 a.m. gave Rhee 2,227,309 and Cho 889,212, with 793,179 invalid.

Election officials said the bulk of the invalid ballots were for P. H. Shinicky, the Democratic party candidate and Rhee's long-time political foe. Shinicky died of a cerebral hemorrhage while campaigning May 5.

In Seoul balloting, Rhee got only 173,869 votes as compared to 237,442 invalid ballots. Cho had 102,301 in Seoul.

The bulk of the vote still uncounted is from rural areas, where Rhee's greatest political strength lies.

State To Widen Detour Approach

PLANS to widen the approach to the north end of the detour on Route 611 between Bartonsville and Tannersville have been approved by the Highway Department and Gov. George M. Leader.

A project map filed in the office of Register and Record Floyd Butz shows the State will condemn a 290-foot stretch of land so that the job can be accomplished. Both Gov. Leader and Highways Sect. Joseph J. Lawler have okayed condemnation of the required land.

Acting District Engineer Edwin J. Greenwald, of Allentown, indicated that the project was considered because of hazardous conditions at the intersection of Route 611 and the old highway at the Tannersville end. Several accidents have occurred at this location because some vehicles have crashed into the barricade after failing to negotiate what is almost a ninety-degree curve.

Greenwald said plans are to widen the approach into a wide, sweeping curve and thereby "eliminate some of the hazard as it now exists."

However, the district engineer scotched rumors that the Highway Department may add a third traffic lane over the detour. Monroe County commissioners have urged the construction of a new southbound by-pass to ease congestion over the detour. However, their request has thus far failed to win State approval.

Miller Admits Collecting May Expense Money

HARRISBURG, May 15 (AP)—A special legislative committee investigating operations of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission today turned its investigation records to the Justice Department "for possible indictment."

"Testimony adduced thus far has been turned over to the Justice Department for study for possible indictment," said Sen. Yosko (D-Northampton), chairman of the committee which is investigating charges of "wanton waste and extravagance of the commission."

"The record will be made available on the bridge commission for its study and action for recoverable funds," Yosko added.

The committee wound up a third round of open hearings in Harrisburg with testimony of Alexander R. Miller, former chairman of the commission.

After Firing

Miller testified he collected $2,391 from the agency for expenses incurred after he was fired by Gov. Leader April 26, 1955.

The former chairman of the bi-state agency read into the record an expense voucher filed by him for the month of May 1955 totaling $2,020. He also filed for expenses of $371 for a conference April 28-29, 1955.

"In other words you filed for expenses for the period May 10 to May 26, during which period you were not a member of the commission," Yosko declared.

However, Miller contended he was named by the commission as executive director in June. He said he continued filing for expenses after he was fired because there was a legal question whether the governor could fire him from the special agency.

He said he remained in the post "with the full knowledge of the commission and on advice of counsel."

At the same time Miller's counsel, James McFadden, Easton, told the committee that Miller would reimburse the commission for any expenses that developments showed he was not entitled to receive.

"You can rest assured he will reimburse the commission," McFadden declared. "And the same is true for any salary he received as a member of the commission executive committee, should that group be shown to be unauthorized."

Committee

The executive committee was set up by the commission with each of its three members receiving $6,000 a year.

Under questioning, Miller identified his signature on expense vouchers totaling more than $9,500 for the first five months of 1955.

Yosko contended that Miller's receipt of expense money for May "stands illegal."

"I'm ruling that now," Yosko said. "That expense for May is not a proper expenditure."

The committee also questioned Miller on the commission's operation of a lobby in Harrisburg.

Yosko asked Miller why the commission needed a lobby when it was already partially sponsored by the Legislature.

"Because," said Miller, "there were bills against the commission to tear down what we had built up."

"Wasn't the governor capable of protecting the commission?" asked Yosko.

"In my opinion, no," said Miller.

Road Aid Bill Chairman Disputes Reports

HARRISBURG, May 15 (AP)—The chairman of a joint House-Senate committee considering the state road aid bill today disputed reports a tentative agreement has been reached.

"Why, we haven't even had a committee meeting yet, so naturally, we haven't discussed the differences between House and Senate versions," said Rep. Petrosky (D-Westmoreland).

Chairman

Petrosky, chairman of the House Highways Committee, is also chairman of the conference group appointed by both houses last week.

Chairman Wade (R—Cumberland) of the Senate Highways Committee said yesterday a tentative agreement had been reached and that he thought a final draft of the bill would be approved by both House and Senate conferees today.

Veterans To Care For Area Graves

THROUGH the supervision of the Veterans Affairs Office, 615 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, 71 cemeteries have been visited throughout the Monroe County, and the necessary attention rendered all Veterans' Graves, such as cleaning, seeding and repairs on headstones or straightening when the occasion arises. This work applies mostly to veterans graves where relatives prior to their death always took care of this work, or where perpetual care of graves does not exist.

Graves Committee of the Thomas P. Lambert Post No. 2540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, N. 1 Veterans Place, Stroudsburg, will again this year carry out the 50-year-old tradition of placing flags on all veterans graves throughout the county. This work was turned over to the Veterans of Foreign Wars by the Sons of Veterans, due to lack of help in 1944. This organization agreed to accept this obligation so long as membership prevailed.

Assisting

Assisting in this work throughout the County are the following Veterans' organizations, Post No. 346 American Legion, Post No. 56 Society of the 28th Division, Marine Corp League, West End Memorial Post No. 927, Evans-Blitz Post No. 922 Barrett, Wilson-Fisher Post No. 413 American Legion, Pocono Lake, Pennsylvania, and Monroe County Joint Memorial Committee. Members of the committee will commence placing flags on all rural cemeteries, other than the Stroudsburg, starting on May 21. Flags will be available to committee members of all rural routes in the county May 21 thru 27, or when convenient to pick up. They will be available at the Veterans Affairs Office.

All flags in the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg cemeteries will be placed on Saturday and Sunday, May 26 and 27. All Veterans are invited to assist in this work, and to meet at the Stroudsburg Cemetery at 1 p.m. Saturday May 26th, if inclement weather prevails on this date, this work will be carried

Special Plans For Army Recruiting

A SPECIAL enrollment program for high school graduates and seniors, similar to the one held April 28, is being planned for this Saturday in Wilkes-Barre, according to the Army Recruiting Service.

M/Sgt. Francis P. DeLucie, who is in charge of the Army Recruiting Station here, said all interested applicants from this area may obtain detailed information from him at the Stroudsburg Postoffice on Thursday between noon and 4 p.m. or they may call Scranton, DI 7-9821, Monday through Friday.

Transportation to Wilkes-Barre, meals and overnight lodging, if necessary, will be provided, according to Sgt. DeLucie.

Purpose of the special enrollment program is to encourage male and female high school seniors and graduates, who are contemplating enlistment later, to apply for Army schools now, while the selection is best, so that they may be assured the school of their choice is open when they want to enlist later.

out the following day, Sunday, May 27.

Members of the committee will do their utmost to contact every grave in the county, but due to the large number of flags to be placed a grave may be overlooked accidentally. Should this occur we ask the next of kin or some member of the respective family or friend of the deceased to immediately contact the committee chairman, Howard Mount, who can be contacted at the VFW Home or Veterans Affairs Office, Telephone 9147 or 2856.

World's most popular POWER STEERING?

Buick Roadmaster 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera

Right this way!

EVERY YEAR, more and more of the new cars sold are equipped with Power Steering. Many a man has bought it "for the wife"—then wondered how he ever got along without it.

And if you have in mind a new car with this increasingly popular feature, you ought to consider this fact:

Since the beginning of last year, Buick has sold far more new cars equipped with Power Steering* than any other car—over 20,000 more in 1955 alone.

That's the record—and the reasons for it are just as impressive.

Buick brings you In-Line Safety Power Steering. In addition to the one-finger ease of turning common to all such systems in varying degree, it has several distinct advantages.

It gives you surer, steadier, safer control at highway speeds—because it retains that good natural "feel" of the road. (That's something you really should compare.)

On the other hand, it gives you more power assist when you need it most—at crawl speeds and at full stop. For parking and other tight maneuvering, Buick's Power Steering makes wheel turning nearly twice as easy as other types of systems. (And that's by engineering computation.)

Add another plus: this Buick feature works through the new Buick front end—where a unique new geometry and steering linkage bring a sweet new response and a wonderfully easy handling and a surer "sense of direction" even to new Buicks not equipped with the power system.

So there you are—and here we are, waiting to prove it all to you.

Waiting, also, to let you try the new thrills to be had in Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—where getaway response and gas mileage both step up even before you switch the pitch.

And waiting to show you how the highest power yet, the sweetest ride yet and the boldest styling yet—all help to make this bright new beauty the Best Buick Yet.

Today is fine with us. How about you?

*Buick's In-Line Safety Power Steering is standard on Roadmaster and Super, optional at moderate extra cost on other Series.

†New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

American Legion, VFW To Conduct Memorial Day Services

Dr. Terrill To Deliver Major Address

DR. EDWARD TERRILL of the English Department at the State Teachers College will deliver the Memorial Day address at rites conducted May 30 at Stroudsburg Cemetery.

The local observance, sponsored by the American Legion, the VFW and their auxiliaries, will get off at 8 a. m., when the veterans groups will place a wreath at the monument outside the Legion Home in East Stroudsburg. Prayer will be offered, a three volley rifle volley will be shot, and taps sounded.

At 8:30 a. m., the veterans organizations will place a wreath on the Doughboy Monument on courthouse square. This will be followed by prayer, the rifle volleys and taps.

All parade units will assemble at the East Stroudsburg High School at 8:30 a. m. and will move out promptly at 9:30, going on N. Courtland St., to Crystal, to Washington, and then to the State Bridge. From the bridge, flower petals will be scattered over the water in honor to the Navy dead. Taps will then be sounded.

Units will then move on to Main St. to Seventh, where members of the first division will pay respects to the Doughboys, and again taps will be sounded. The parade will then continue to W. Main St. and the Stroudsburg Cemetery.

Program

The program for the cemetery rites follows: Invocation, Rev. Frank W. Wingerter; playing of "America," Smithfield School Band; Introduction of guests by Atty. J. Joseph McCluskey, master-of-ceremonies; Memorial address, Dr. Terrill; Flying Squad, Company G, 109th Infantry; Taps, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps; Benediction, Mr. Wingerter, and the National Anthem by the Stroudsburg High School Band.

Thaddeus S. Janusz is chairman of the ceremonies, while Earl R. Palmer is serving as co-chairman.

Participating in the parade will be the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, the Marine Corps Reserve, Civil Air Patrol, East Stroudsburg High Band, Company G, 109th Infantry, Smithfield School Band, Salvation Army, Girl and Boy Scouts, Stroudsburg High Band, the VFW, American Legion and their auxiliaries.

In the event of rain, all units will report to the Stroudsburg High School where services will be held.

A 25TH anniversary meeting will be held at the session of East Stroudsburg Lodge of Elks tomorrow night, honoring members affiliated with the group in the 1931-32 period.

There will be roast beef supper served to all lodge members starting at 6:30 p.m.

Boy Scouts Plan Drive For Funds

ON JUNE 12 THE Delaware Valley Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will "kick-off" an "expansion fund" drive for $200,000.

Scouting officials say the money is needed to expand and improve facilities at Camp Weygadt.

All—or at least a major portion—of the money will be raised in the Northampton and Monroe County regions in Pennsylvania and the Lower Warren County, N. J. area.

Increase

Officials of the Area Council point out that Scouting enrollment in the valley has increased 218 per cent or more than tripled in the past seven years. Since 1925 the number of Scouts increased 803 per cent, they claim.

Even more startling than this, officials note, is the fact that in 1955 reservations for camping at Camp Weygadt were 73 per cent higher than the total number seven years ago.

Many times, the officials go on, there are four times as many boys wanting overnight camping at Weygadt as there are facilities at the camp. Primary needs to be filled through the fund drive will be over-all enlargement of camp facilities and—in the long run—establishment of separate facilities for use by older boys who are now Explorer Scouts.

Park Group Makes Plans

DELAWARE WATER GAP — Citizens who have visited the Community Memorial Park in Cherry Valley are exclaiming over the profusion of wildflowers: Blood Root, Anemone, Bluetts and Violets.

The park committee plans to have a bulldozer at the park today to clear away silt and make the spot ready for summer bathing. The committee has figured expenses and estimate that a gift of one dollar from each Water Gap family will take care of the need for the season.

Tables

Tables will be set up and play equipment put in order. A parking space near the Cherry Valley highway is one plan being under consideration. Checks or money may be mailed to "Park Committee".

Supper Scheduled

PORTLAND — A cafeteria supper will be held in the Portland Presbyterian Church on Friday starting at 5 p. m. Home-baked food will be on sale.

Russia Forced To Reduce Military, Hopes West Will Let Down Own Guard

It appears Soviet Russia is dangling another bit of poisonous bait in front of the free world.

The Soviet Union announced it is slashing its armed forces by 1,200,000 men, disbanding 63 army divisions plus three air divisions and putting 375 naval ships into mothballs. It invited nations of the West to do the same.

The men to be released from the armed forces are to be absorbed into industry and agriculture, the Moscow announcement said.

There is no doubt Russia must take drastic steps to bolster its sagging economy, and if it expects to step up its world trade in competition with the free nations, such as the United States, it must have more skilled manpower to produce the goods it hopes to sell.

Soldiers manning weapons of war are capable of sacking the industry and wealth of an overrun country, but they produce little or nothing to sustain their own nation's economy.

Hence Russia's transfer of men from the armed forces to the fields and factories is dictated by necessity, rather than a desire for world peace. Her major goal, which is world conquest, remains unchanged.

If the Kremlin were really sincere in its highly publicized "smile and light" campaign, it could bring about world disarmament almost within a fortnight simply by agreeing to President Eisenhower's "open skies" proposal. This would permit mutual aerial inspections of military installations as a means of guarding against armament buildups that threaten world peace.

Until such time as Khrushchev, Bulganin and Co. are willing to permit free inspections, the Western world can ill afford to take Russia's promises to heart. We cannot trust the Communist leaders; that has been proved.

So it behooves all peoples who cherish their freedom to avoid every type of lure Russia offers. The most we should do is continue testing her sincerity and hold to the slim thread of hope one of her proposals will prove genuine.

Poorer School Districts Need Federal, State Financial Aid To Educate Children

In opposing federal aid to education, President Willard F. Rockwell Jr. of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce, told an audience that even the State itself has "gone entirely too far" in providing State aid to schools and that part of the State's present load should be "carried at lower levels."

By lower levels, Mr. Rockwell can mean only the local school districts, which are political subdivisions of the State. But as anyone who has had experience in this field will know, it is much easier to talk about raising school funds locally than it is to get the money. The business of raising funds locally is restricted not only by state statute but by public pressures.

Consider, for example, what happened in Pittsburgh in 1953 when the State Legislature, ducking its own responsibility, authorized a local referendum on an increase in real estate taxes for school purposes. The proposal was defeated by a vote of four to one. And in many communities, citizens are sore as boils over the imposition of wage taxes to raise school funds. Taxes for school purposes are opposed at every level of government.

There is no easy solution for the problem of steadily rising costs in public education. If there were a ready solution for the problem at home, pressures for state and federal aid would not exist. Gradual acceptance of state and federal responsibility in meeting educational needs reflects a widespread inequality of educational opportunity in this country. The unhappy fact is that there are thousands of poor school districts which simply can't provide from their own resources anything like an adequate school program.

The state or federal governments, or both acting together, simply have to assume the responsibility for meeting the educational needs of such districts. The most sensible approach would be to force these districts to pool their resources with neighboring districts and to afford them ample tax power. But even when this is done, there will be instances in which federal and or state aid will be required if an adequate educational program is to be made available to all American children.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

'Yank Go Home' Signs May Be Work Of Neutrals Rather Than Red Agitators

It is not amusing, for a taxpayer, to hear someone say, someone from most any country, that it would be preferable if the United States left that country. Of course, we are not really in any country, except that we helped to defend it during the war, financed its reconstruction, immediately after the war, and have continued to give it one or another kind of aid since. But we have taken no territory nor have we subordinated any government to ourselves.

So, we see signs, "Yanks Go Home!" and we say that the Communies put them up. But suppose it was not the Communies who put up the signs, "Yanks Go Home!" Suppose most of the citizens of a country, let us say like France, really want us to remove ourselves, our aid, our standard of living, our conferences, air bases, NATO and everything else so that they might live their own lives as they have done for centuries with wars coming upon them quite often, most of which they lose but none of which obliterate them. I use France as an example. It might be Italy. Even little Iceland is now telling us to clear out.

How do we know that the people want our aid or want us to clear out? How do we know that the miserable signs, "Yanks Go Home!" are not really put up by anti-Russian, anti-American neutrals who want no part of great issues but prefer to live out their lives as small people, inconspicuous, unimportant but altogether contented?

The wave of neutralism in the world is usually attributed to our failure in the Korean War. After such a failure every nation had to reconsider its position. If Red China could defeat the United States, anything could happen, and why take big risks? Furthermore, for the Asians our treatment of Chiang Kai-shek indicated a coldly logical objectivity which for most nations is too frigid. Then the Dutch feel that we squeezed them out of the Dutch East Indies (Indonesia) and the French out of French Indochina (Vietnam) and Morocco. So many countries want to play safe and be neutral.

Besides, there are the bombs. Whoever uses the bomb first, who can tell who will get hurt most? When it was believed that only the United States had the bomb, we had real allies. But now, Soviet Russia claims to have as much bomb as we have. In fact, our own generals and admirals, seeking appropriations, each for his own service, in a unified Defense Department which is torn by increasing jealousy, continue to tell the world how much better the Russians are doing than we are. Their hope is to get bigger appropriations; the end result is to frighten the American people and to make them wonder what has been done with all the billions that have already been spent on bombs and airplanes and submarines and all sort of things. And more and more the taxpayer wonders how long he will continue to have to pay crushing taxes to aid the neutrals and the weak and backward nations and at the same time finance an armament race in which we fall behind the Russians, as the generals say. Isn't there one piece of good news anywhere for the American taxpayer?

Well, it might be said that peace is cheaper than war and that as long as there is peace, nobody gets killed by war and the costs are kept down. On the other hand, if what the generals say is true, namely that the Russians are beating us in the armament race, it is not at all surprising that the signs go up, "Yanks Go Home!" because nobody lives a longer and most of the body expects us to win. As a matter of fact, a French youth was explaining to me that the Russians did not steal the bomb from us at all; that the Julius and Ethel Rosenberg story was a fabrication; that there were two ways of making the atom bomb—we made it one way and the Russians the other. Apparently he was taught that in school or read it somewhere. He was not clear as to the source of that account, but was quite stubborn about its accuracy. So, if we are not so wonderful why should not the Yanks go home?

'A PLAGUE ON BOTH YOUR HOUSES'

Fairly Spoken By MARGARET LATROBE

Memories Of Trapped Cars And Family Party

Whenever the Sunday supplements blossom with men's shirts I think of the most beautiful one I ever saw. And of my Aunt Ella. And of the car getting stuck in the hot sand of the road in front of the house that Sunday noon. And of my handsome cousin who wore that shirt and had to perform the ignominious feat of hauling Tim Lizza from the enveloping sand while Aunt Ella smiled from the porch at his misery. Cousin Tay was known as a "dossier." His passion for immaculate and always dashing attire extended to everything he owned. Take the car—high, thin-wheeled, brass plated interloper of transportation. Its black polished paint reflected the Sunday sun to the point where a man's hand would be scorched from opening the doors. Cousin Tay wore gloves, pale buff colored, for just this contingency.

With no pleasure today, he had intended wheeling past Aunt Ella's house rather slowly, into the shaded lane, there to deposit his relatives for the family reunion. The timing was rehearsed, because to have arrived before the buggies and surreys had drawn up and their teams set free for an afternoon's graze would have frightened the horses. And maybe have caused a runaway.

Everything was in readiness for our arrival. Aunt Ella was on the porch, surrounded by her large family—all waiting for the Ford to turn the bend. Cousin Tay, resplendent in the red and white striped pure silk shirt, gripped the wheel and checked nervously all the gears and knobs and levers before him. We chugged into view. "Wave at them!" he hissed, slowing the bouncing car to a crawl. We waved. But—ah, pride goeth before a fall. We had only just left the country church where the preacher exhorted against this very thing, but during the sermon Cousin Tay had been musing about his fine car and his new red and white striped shirt. We waved as the car came to a lurching halt. Stuck fast in the dust.

There was a dry but kindly humor amongst the uncles. They didn't come rushing out to the rescue, as though it were a real emergency. They gave Cousin Tay time to invent excuses for the new-fangled contraption, up to its hubcaps in hot sugary dust. The horses galloped to the fence, curious to see what manner of locomotion dared compete with their faithful service. But the uncles never so much as glanced at them. It was a delicate moment, a moment for tact. They smiled broadly but said no word about the steaming monster stuck in the road, or of the red and white striped shirt being melted against the skin of Cousin Tay's sweating back. Some helped gather towels which were pressed beneath the back wheels, one cranked the car while Cousin Tay jiggled levers and (I think) swore softly in his driver's perch.

Later, Aunt Ella settled him in a comfortable chair on the porch next to Grandmother, after seeing that he had a fresh shirt from one of the boys' bureaus. Oddly enough, this one was neither new or silk nor quite the type for Cousin Tay. I distinctly recall a number of patches on the elbows—finely stitched, of course—and the frayed collar needing turning.

Otherwise, we had a very pleasant day. I spoke a long "piece" but though fascinating to the company of kinkfolk, not to Cousin Tay, who glowered from his corner. Yes, that was some shirt. I never saw its equal before or since. Red and white striped silk, it was.

Man with a telescope at the Battery in New York had this sign attached to his instrument: "For one slim dime you can see an all-star cast. They work for nothing—and keep their sparkle straight through the night."

A doctor told a tired Chicago business man that what he needed was some change, so he went to Brooklyn and came home with four transfers and a subway token.

U.S. Offers Military Pacts To Syria And Saudi Arabia

Washington, May 15.—There is a good chance the U. S. will establish momentous military ties with two of Premier Nasser's closest allies.

Syria and oil-rich Saudi Arabia are considering U. S. proposals under which they would receive considerable military aid in exchange for accepting Military Assistance Advisory Groups to train their forces.

Similar significant plans are also being discussed with Lebanon and Libya. These two Arab countries, while very friendly to Egypt, do not have military alliances with her. Also, unlike Syria, they and Saudi Arabia have no weapons deals with the Soviet bloc. Shipments of Red arms to Syria so far have been small.

The 93-member Military Assistance Advisory Group proposed for Saudi Arabia would be one of the largest of its kind. It would exceed a 93-man MAAG for West Germany; 87 for Spain; 61 each for Yugoslavia and Cambodia; and 45 for Pakistan. The MAAG for Syria would total 21 officers and non-coms. For Lebanon 16, and Libya 8.

Such agreements with these four Arab nations would be a tremendous diplomatic and military achievements for the U. S. in particular and the West in general. Russia would suffer a smashing setback in its war-breeding machinations in the Middle East. And a powerful barrier would be thrown up against the driving ambitions of Premier Nasser to make himself the strong man of this strategic, and highly explosive, region.

The prospects — Because of the extreme delicacy of these negotiations, they are being carefully cloaked in official secrecy. But an authoritative hint that they are expected to succeed is contained in a memorandum the Pentagon has given the House Foreign Affairs Committee, that in delivering President Eisenhower's controversial $4,000,000 foreign aid budget.

This backstage memo discloses that funds in this budget are already earmarked for military aid and MAAGs for Syria, Saudi Arabia, Libya and Lebanon. There is no mention of such measures for Egypt and Israel. The Committee received the document from Markley Shaw, controller of the International Security Affairs Section of the Defense Department. Committee members sought to question Shaw about this matter, but he explained he did not know the details and would have to report later.

Scout Master Keeps Close To Work

By Jim Riley

Two Life Scout Awards are scheduled to be presented during tonight's Court of Honor conducted by Boy Scout Troop No. 95. The court will be held at Paradise Township School.

One of the main forces behind the elevation of the 2 young scouts, Bill Hamblin and Cliff Packard, is Carl Hamblin, scout master of the Swiftwater troop.

Carl is one of the most outstanding figures in scouting in Monroe County. He has been active in scouting for 18 years and has been a leader for 11 of those years.

Not giving away Carl's age it might be good at this point to mention that he was scout master of a troop that included this reporter back in the late 1930s. This troop used to meet at the social hall of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church in Swiftwater.

Carl has always worked hard and has always had scouting topmost in his mind, even though he was out of his favorite activity for six years while living in Connecticut. Thornton Counterman, committee chairman, and Lyle D. Packard, committeeman, are also working hard in assisting Hamblin with the current troop. Tonight's Court of Honor will feature presentation of 22 Merit Badges, two Star Scout awards and one Second Class award, in addition to the above mentioned Life Scout honors.

The appearance of four jet planes, during a pair of sweeps over Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, was certainly the highlight of "Tonyhanna Days." Conversations between ground and plane, heard over a public address system, entertained a large crowd during both visits of the planes last Saturday.

It certainly was a fine idea and was carried off without a hitch. Rocco "Rocks" Coco, one of the familiar figures around Shawnee, is now located in a new shop down near the caddy house.

Eric Schuchard, manager of the Penn-Stroud Hotel, was one of the most interested, and certainly the most nervous, of spectators on Monday when a giant crane swung a new chimney into place at the hotel.

The task was of such magnitude that N. Seventh St. was blocked off for almost the entire day.

Prof. I. W. Foltz did all in his power to make the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Senior Prom a success at Shawnee Inn and Country Club last Saturday night.

My New York

—by Mel Heimer

New York—May is "senior citizen month" in New York, and from Edward Bernays, chairman of a committee formed to help observe it, comes a plea to make as many references to older persons as possible, to point out it "is better to be 70 years young than 40 years old" and to make suggestions that will "make life richer and more meaningful for older people."

It isn't that easy—in New York. The closer I look at a sheet of facts and figures spread out on my desk, the more I wonder how a 70-year-old person gets through the day in this noisy, noisy city that seems made especially for the young.

To begin with, I was startled to learn on investigating that there are roughly a million New Yorkers aged 60 or over. Three-quarters of them are 65 or over—and the venerable company gets new members every day. Back in 1920, there were 176,231 men and women over 65 in New York; today, the estimated number is 740,000. The majority are women, since the female of the species has a considerably longer life expectancy than the male.

Here in New York, single old people—and more than half of the old folks are single—are excluded by law from living in federally-aided low-rent public housing. And it's a known fact that smaller flats in big apartment houses rent at higher rates per room than larger units.

What Bernays wants me to do, aside from paying tribute to the old folks, I am not sure. I'll pay them that tribute, since it's a Herculean feat to grow old at all in New York—but mostly, I'd like some of the younger people to look over these rent-income-education-housing law items. It's tough to get to be old here . . . and tougher to stay alive when you are.

The Buddhist temple at Hory-uji, Japan, is considered to be the world's oldest wooden building. Parts of it have stood since 139 A. D.

PAGE FOUR

FIRST PRIZE went to the kitchen of Mrs. J. C. Mullins (inset) at 514 Brown St., Stroudsburg. Remodeled from two inconvenient rooms, the kitchen now has a colonial atmosphere, carried out in the pine paneled walls and cabinets with antique hinges, the Hitchcock chairs and braided rug on the floor, and the louvered sliding doors which conceal the laundry unit, at the opposite end. Imaginative details such as the antique lamp on the pine table, the wastebasket covered in the same rose and blue wall-paper which covers the back wall, and a built-in desk with a spice chest, and apothecary jars add interest. Note the wall oven at right.

HEART OF THE HOME is the kitchen and there were 24 Monroe County kitchens opened to the public in a tour for the benefit of the Monroe County Home for the Aged. Sponsored by the Stroudsburg Woman's Club the tour has brought in $380 for the Home for the Aged. It did far more. For the hundreds who made the tour, it brought a new appreciation of the beauty of the homes represented, a lot of new ideas for their own kitchens, and many new friends. For the owners of these eight kitchens pictured on this page, the tour also brought cash prizes, presented this week by Ernest H. Wyckoff, chairman of the Monroe County Home Association.

One of the remarkable results of the tour was the fact that each of the 24 kitchens received some votes as the favorite. These eight were the favorites of the most people voting. Skillful use of color, ingenious combinations of material: wood, stone, plastics, wallpaper and fabric, and unusual groupings of appliances for efficient work areas, all influenced the voting.

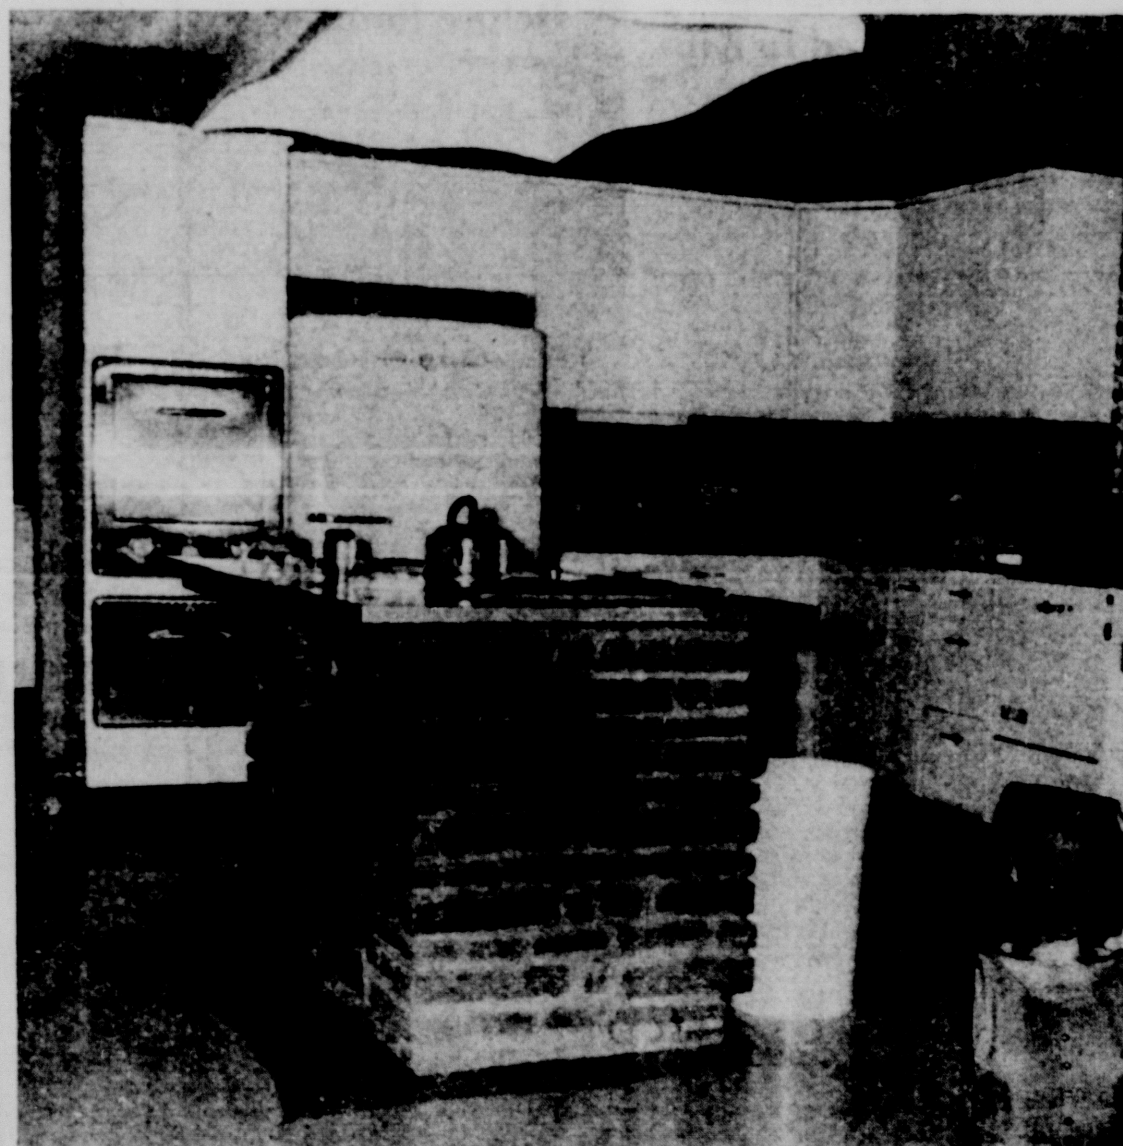

Five of the eight are remodeled kitchens, and the homes they represent range from the just-completed to one almost 100 years old. In all of them imagination and livability have made them the center for the families which use them.

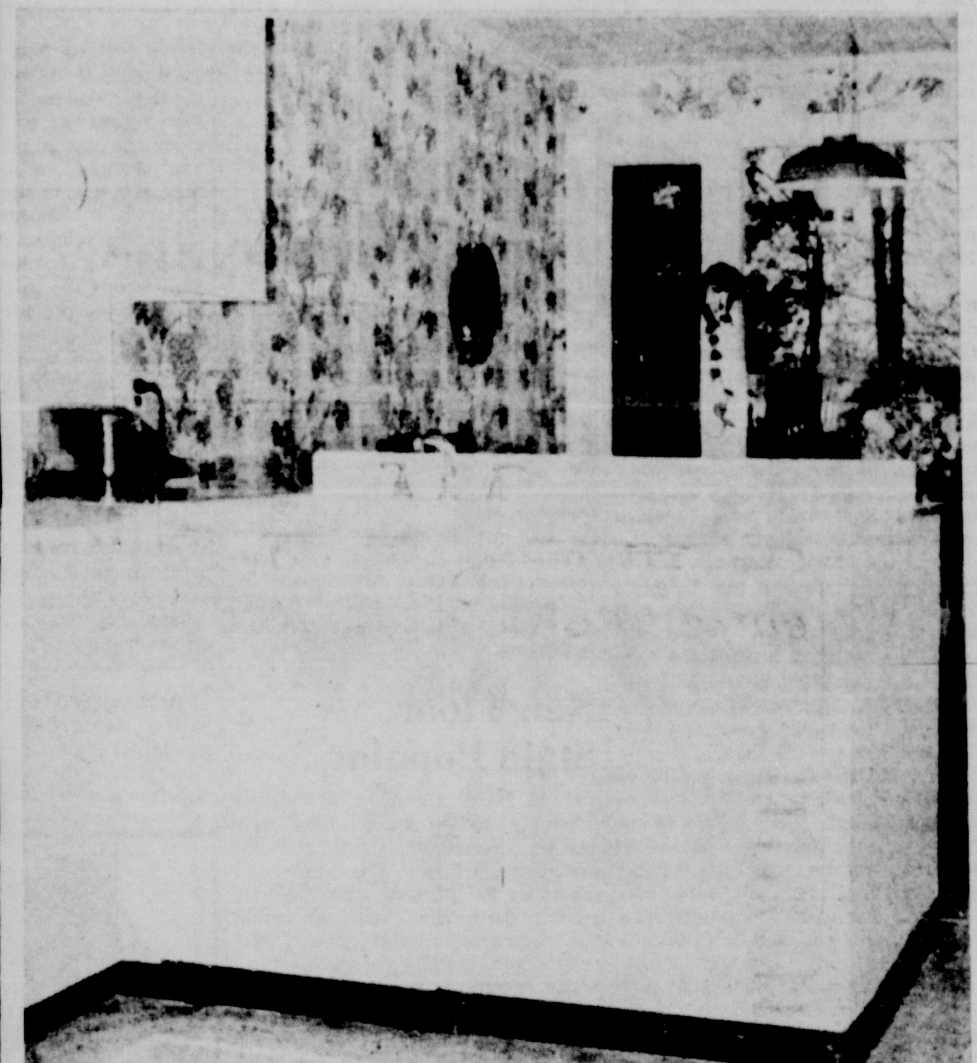

SECOND PRIZE to the kitchen of Mrs. Edward Driebe (inset) at 510 Thomas St., Stroudsburg, where cool stone and warm tropical colors form an unusual combination. This kitchen, too, was remodeled, making use of the old chimney, now faced in grey stone, to hold the two wall ovens and the open charcoal grill, left. The diagonally placed surface cooking unit also serves as a room divider for the dining nook, papered in cocoa brown with accents of yellow pears. The wooden bowl holding colorful gourds and fruit ties together the colors of the wallpaper and matching fabric drapes with shades of brown, black, grey and yellow fruit and yellow fruit and leaves against the white background, and grey marbled floor covering.

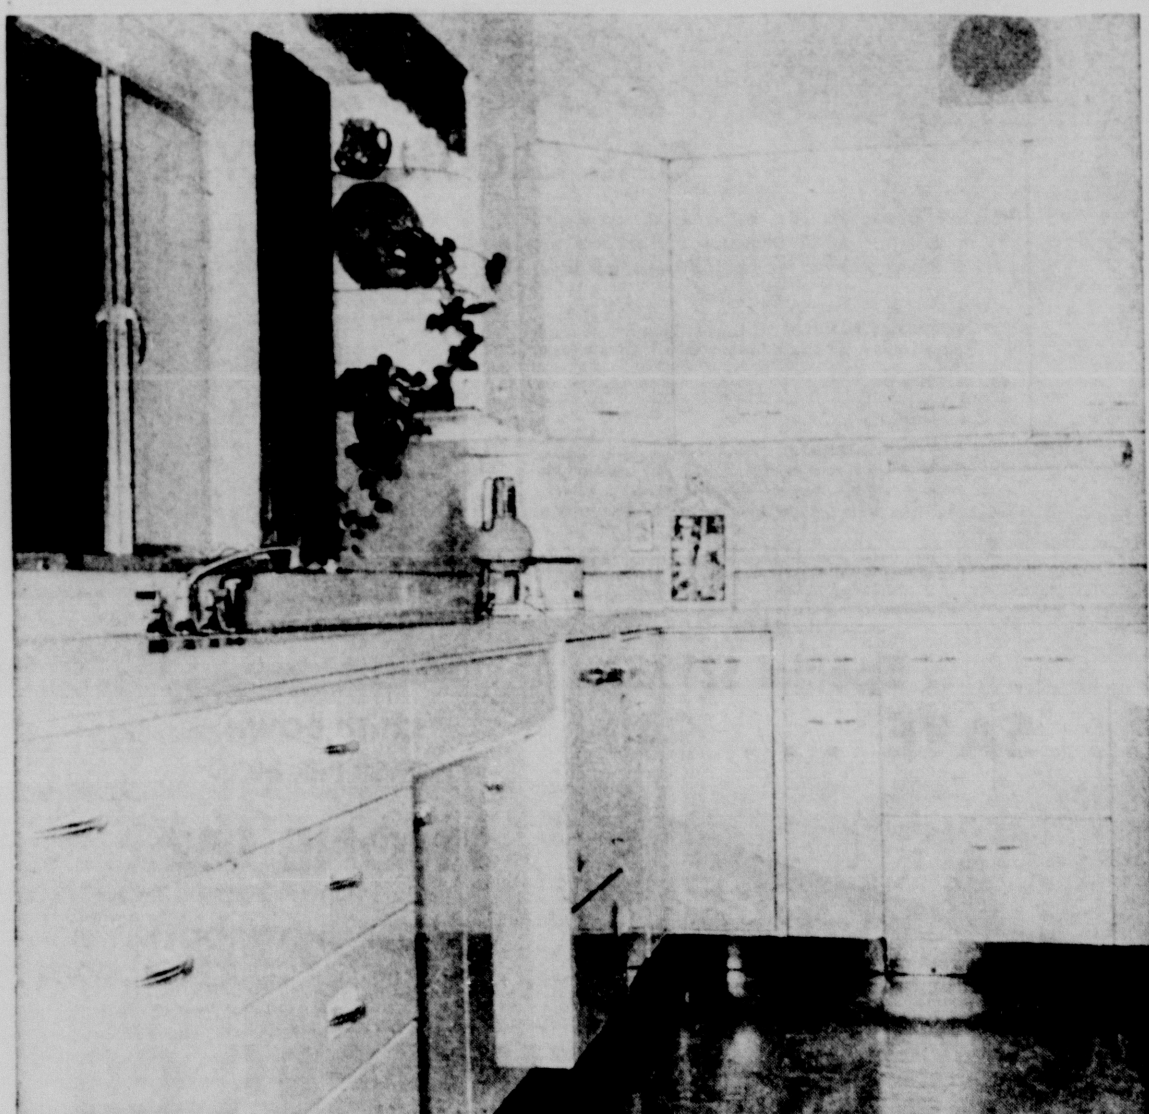

SPACIOUS IN ROOM and in outlook is the kitchen at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Bensinger Jr., sharing fifth place honors. Pine paneling, Pennsylvania Dutch accessories and the captains chairs around the lazy-Susan table, set the colonial key-note while wall oven, plenty of counter space and a speckled floor make it an efficient center for a large and active family with a view on Twin Hills overlooking Tanite Road.

THIRD PRIZE went to the kitchen of Mrs. Robert Ahnert (inset) and also featured separate surface cooking unit. This one in the center of the room is on a pedestal of grey stone with a stainless steel shelf under a yellow canopy which holds the ventilating fan. Wall oven and broiler in the rear and cheerful yellow and green color scheme tie together kitchen and kitchen dining area, and louvered doors open like shutters to the rest of the house.

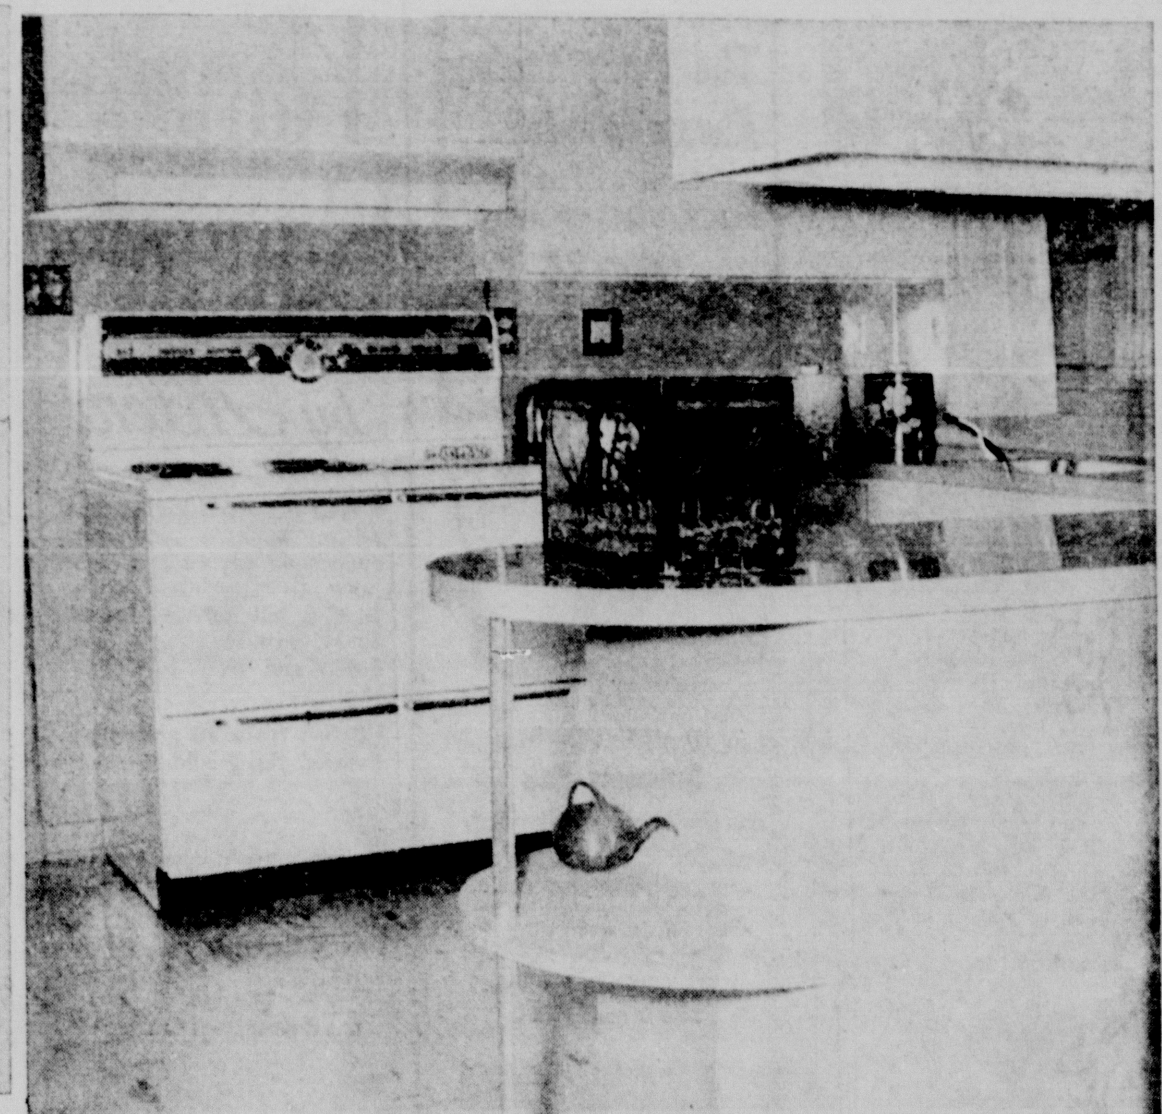

BRINGING IN THE view through the window wall is the trellised wall-paper with its hanging grapes in the kitchen of Mrs. Harold Newman, 764 West Bryant St., Stroudsburg. The sink and dishwashing unit forms the room divider for the breakfast nook where a brass-lined washstand holds African violets and hanging vines lead the eye to the back garden beyond.

STRAWBERRIES AND CREAM, that's the color scheme of Mrs. Thomas I. Metzgar's kitchen on Club Court, fourth prize winner. The subtle rose shade of counter tops and accessories are pointed up by the dark green match-stick draw curtains and wooden valance, the parquet-like floor covering. In remodeling, a step-down breakfast nook with a picture window, and piped-in music (see loud speaker upper right) were added for a feeling of comfort, and details such as the flowered pink teakettle add piquancy.

SETTER ON THE HEARTH completed the picture of colonial comfort which won fifth place honors for the kitchen of Mrs. J. K. Shafer, at 830 Monroe St. Making use of the fireplace which was in the kitchen when her father purchased the house in 1867, Mrs. Shafer has used braided rugs, colonial furniture, rocking chair and darning basket by the fire with the tiny-figured wall-paper while modern efficiency is concealed behind the room divider at the right.

SUGAR AND SPICE brought fourth place honors, also, to the kitchen of Mrs. Warren Mikels' brand new home just off Bryant St., South Stroudsburg. Setting the color scheme of pale grey, pink and green is the flowered wallpaper with its carnations, carried out in a pink table in the windowed wall breakfast nook which opens to the patio, in the pink counter top on the room divider with its aquarium, and in the bamboo curtains and wrought iron furniture.

Handy Tip On Drilling Plywood Holes

NEED A handy tip on how to start drilling holes in plywood?

Those who work with metal nearly always carry around a center punch to start drilling holes. This also works for plywood panels, where a small punch hole will enable the drill to start more easily.

Nailing

When nailing or drilling into the edge of plywood, a common fault is a slight splintering of the end. This can be eliminated by using a small clamp which compresses the area where you are going to do the nailing or drilling. The clamp can be put on in a jiffy, the nailing or drilling done and the clamp removed in a couple of seconds.

Chalk Line Guide

CHALK LINES are useful guides when laying the floors and hanging wallpaper. A chalk line is made by stretching a length of string between two nails, rubbing chalk over the string, then lifting the string slightly and allowing it to snap back.

DESIGN B-408. Here is a compact plan with no waste space and a very small hall which, in spite of its size, permits perfect circulation between rooms.

The floor shows a large living room, separated from the combination kitchen-dinette by means of a folding door; also two bedrooms, a bath and an attached garage. Closets are plentiful and include storage closet, wardrobes, linen cabinet and coat closets in the living room and rear entry.

Exterior finish is a combination of stone and wide siding with a hip roof, wide eave overhang, stone planter, picture window and covered front and rear entrances. Floor area is 1035 square feet, with 19,665 cubic feet, including the full basement, but not including the garage.

Assortment Of Toys Among Top Decorations In Home

WOMEN WITH CHILDREN recognize that even the most beautifully decorated home is inevitably going to be decorated also with an assortment of toys and paraphernalia.

It's impossible to eliminate the clutter entirely and it wouldn't be a good idea if it were possible. The problem resolves into one of getting the clutter out of sight during the evenings with a minimum of strain and keeping ash trays and bric-a-brac safe during the day.

Toddler

For the young toddler, this means storing all household breakables high during the baby's waking hours. He will scatter his toys and leave appealing kitchen utensils all across the floor and there's little that can be done but pick up when the day is over.

But as soon as the child is able to comprehend the idea of picking up when play time is over, it's time to move in with toy storage units. One such unit need not be a unit at all, but a cardboard box that the child can push around while "parking" his trucks in the "garage." Almost any sturdy light carton will do.

Remover

The liquid remover or warm water containing detergent or strong soap will then seep through the exposed paper and dissolve the paste.

IF WALLPAPER has been painted over, it is difficult to remove. Wallpaper steamers are usually ineffective, and unless the surface is well scored, liquid removers also will fail.

A stiff paint brush quickly scores the paint through to the paper without damaging the plaster wall underneath.

New Floor Stain Popular

ONE NEW trend in decorating forecast involves a new floor stain which permits interesting color variations. There are some 160 colors in the present stain palette, among them tints such as aquamarine, coral, hunter's green, burgundy and jonquil yellow.

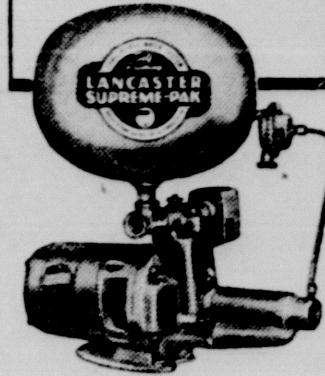

The growing trend to smaller floor coverings and wider areas of polished floors in contemporary decoration forecasts that the color stains should have wide use.

Water Pistol Handy

A TOY water pistol is a fine thing for wetting down the edges of plaster and concrete before patching compound.

Space Depends On Size Of Room

THE EXACT amount of counter space in a kitchen obviously is determined by the size of the room and the number of base cabinets chosen. But where the counter surfaces are located in relation to the work they normally will be subjected to plays an important part in the overall efficiency of the kitchen. Consequently, planning for convenient counter arrangements is nearly as vital to a new kitchen as having sufficient storage facilities.

Whether the room is small or large, ample counter space should be allowed near each of the various work centers, home economists say.

Sink

Near the sink you need plenty of free surface on both sides, if possible, for stacking dishes as well as for cleaning and preparing foods, such as vegetables. Ideally, the refrigerator should have a minimum of 18 inches of counter top for setting out supplies.

The range requires approximately 24 inches for serving and resting hot pans. In the food mixing and preparation area it is best to allow at least 36 inches of counter surface, according to the experts.

Awnings Now Packed In Kits

LATEST GADGET for the do-it-yourselfer is aluminum awnings, packed in kits and pre-cut to cover average size windows.

For longer lengths, the awnings can be placed side by side. About the only tool the home-owner needs to assemble them is a screw driver. They can be disassembled for winter storage.

Disconnect Cord

WHEN YOU disconnect an appliance cord, always disconnect it from the wall outlet first and then from the appliance. This helps reduce the hazard of small children putting the plug in their mouths when the line is carrying current.

Directions On Ladder

WHEN using a ladder for outdoor work, the foot should be placed as far out from the house as one-quarter the length of the ladder. It's a good idea, too, to drive a stout peg into the ground at the front of each leg.

Fiber Door Mats Usually Sift Dirt Through Backing

FIBER DOOR MATS usually sift the dirt through the backing and onto the floor underneath. Moisture collects under mats, evaporating slowly, often rotting the back and staining the floor.

A simple cure is to use a small can of liquid latex rubber paint intended for backing rugs to keep them from slipping. It will do an excellent job of coating mat backs so dirt will not sift through and keep floor moisture out.

Two coats will usually do the trick, but follow directions on the can for length of drying before replacing the mat.

Good Cleaner For Fireplace

A GOOD cleaner for sooty fireplace brick is made with 1/2 pound of caustic soda to 2 quarts of hot water. Scrub this over the brick with a stiff brush and then rinse the bricks with clean water.

Be careful to keep the cleaning solution off of your hands and off painted woodwork and floors.

Roman Totenberg

Final Community Concert To Be Held At College Today

TONIGHT AT 8:30 the last in this season's series of Community Concerts will be presented.

On stage at the college auditorium, local subscribers will hear the violin artistry of Roman Totenberg, widely-acclaimed for his solo work and ensemble playing and leading.

Now an American citizen, Totenberg was born in Lodz, Poland. At the age of six he delighted his family all artistically inclined by turning to the violin. Not long after he began the first of several seasons touring Russia as a child prodigy.

Debut

He made his debut in his native Poland as soloist with the Warsaw Philharmonic Symphony. Continuing to study he became a pupil of Carl Flesch in Berlin, then Georges Enesco in Paris and later studied chamber music with Pierre Monteux in Paris.

Totenberg made his first American appearance in 1935 with the National Symphony in Washington, D. C. Three years later he took out his first naturalization papers to become an American citizen; reached that goal fully in 1943.

Possible Court Injunction Hinted At Bangor Over Controversial Parking Lot Problem

BANGOR — A possible court injunction was hinted at by members of the Bangor Boro Council and the Chamber of Commerce on Monday night during the controversial issue of a parking lot.

The possibility of a court injunction was brought up by members of the Chamber of Commerce and other interested businessmen of Bangor in a discussion with council members of the proposed parking lot.

The issue has persisted over a four-year span since the Chamber of Commerce suggested to council the purchase outright or by condemnation proceedings four tracts of land located in the center of the borough's business district. A Parking Authority was created by council to negotiate with owners of the four tracts but the authority found itself stalled in its negotiation and turned the problem back to council two years ago. The Authority claimed it was unable to produce or raise the necessary funds for the construction of the lot.

Also, two years ago, the question was put on the ballot for the voters to decide. The vote was in favor of a parking lot by a scant 33 votes, but since that time, the issue has bogged down due to what council terms "its inability to negotiate for the land at reasonable prices."

So said two councilmen in Monday night's session.

The four tracts involved are owned by L. J. Bruschi, W. C. Houck's Sons, Dominick Ronco, and the Heller Estate. Councilmen claimed that the Heller Estate is asking $36,000 for their lot which is presently being used as a private parking area. Bruschi is asking for a five-year lease on his property, said the councilmen, which leaves construction of such a lot unfeasible. The other two lots have been successfully and satisfactorily negotiated.

Councilmen reported that the total estimated cost including the Heller property was $70,000. Two councilmen favored the erection of the parking lot only if the Heller property were included. Other councilmen voiced an opinion that the question should again be put on the ballot because of the amount involved. They said that the voters did not have a knowledge of the cost and didn't understand the question.

In answer to this, Attorney Edmund Turzo, representing busnessmen, termed the vote of two years ago as "a legal mandate of council."

Near the end of the session, President of Council Rex Erdman urged the special committee investigating the issue to recommend action at the June meeting of council.

Ann Logans Review Success Of Butler Administration; Mrs. Metzgar New President

Members of the Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital has in the past two years contributed $5,000 in gifts to the General Hospital and its nurses homes through its combined projects, the report of the retiring president, Mrs. Horace G. Butler, revealed at the meeting on Monday night at the YMCA.

During her administration, the members have worked hard and faithfully to raise funds as well as making things directly for the hospital, she reported. The major fund-raising projects during that time have been the birthday-activities calendar, the annual fruit cake sale, summer card parties and the sale of dish cloths and cloths.

Each meeting is also a work session, and during that time the members have made card party prizes, slippers for the men's ward, nursery gowns for the children's ward, small pillows for general use, and bright corduroy face pillows for the children.

During the business meeting officers were elected for the coming year with Mrs. Thomas I. Metzgar, president; Mrs. James Gavin, first vice president; Mrs. Henry Nietzsche, second vice president; Mrs. James Mader, treasurer; Mrs. Maxwell Cohen, assistant; and Mrs. Horace Butler, Mrs. Merle C. Ostrom and Mrs. James Coleman, directors.

Plans were also announced for the summer card parties. The first will be held on Tuesday, June 19, at Camp Tanniment, with Mrs. Metzgar and Mrs. Butler as co-chairmen. Mrs. Metzgar will arrange transportation for those who call her and Mrs. Nelson Frantz is in charge of tickets. The second card party will be held on August 28 at Pocono Manor.

The closing meeting of the year for the auxiliary will be a picnic on June 11 at 6:30 at the Stroudsburg Playground, or at the YMCA if weather is bad. Members are asked to bring their own table service and beverage and a dish to pass.

Tribute was paid by the members to the memory of Mrs. Carrie Slutter.

SPCA Benefits Include Sale This Week

The local chapter of the Society of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have planned two major benefits during the next two months. The first will be a rummage and white elephant sale to be held Thursday afternoon and all day Friday and Saturday at Muransky's storeroom, East Stroudsburg.

Members and others interested in helping the SPCA are asked to bring their donations to the store on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Thomas Shoemith is chairman of the committee which also includes Mrs. Otto Heins, Mrs. Frank Fuller, Mrs. John Stanford, Mrs. Thomas Brown and Mrs. J. Harold Lanham.

The second in the series of benefits is to be the annual bake sale to be held in June, with Mrs. Edward C. Knob as chairman.

Reunion For SHS '31

Plans are being completed for the reunion of the Class of 1931, Stroudsburg High School, to be held June 9. Reservations are to be returned to Ethel Gustie Johnson not later than May 16 when the committee will meet at 7:30 at Bill Diehl's store.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

I'd put in my application for the next picture page so I could show off our prize-winning kitchen pictures, but I had no idea the page would come along the day after the prize-winners were announced.

So instead of a leisurely trip around to the kitchens to refresh my memory, and incidentally to check up on how they looked when something was cooking, I had a hectic and frantic search through notes I'd scribbled on the run almost a month ago. If I have blue for Kate Mullins kitchen instead of purple, she'll have to forgive me.

Month-old notes are fascinating things for cryptographers but maddening to a reporter in a hurry. "Keys and coffee pots," says one. "Small wreath," says another, and "ruffled fly & 7," says the third. I still haven't figured out what I meant. "Wreathlike" is probably workmanlike but ruffled fly's?

Maybe it's one of those new-fangled things Mary Jane Williams got at her bridal shower the other night, and Ann Leaking of the shower if the Ann Logans wondered where some of their old-faithfuls were, that's where.

However, they still had enough out for Ann Logan to rejoice in their reports and to finish up the pillows for the nursery. Bright corduroy pillows they were with embroidered faces and yarn for hair and just the right size for cuddling up to if the children are really sick, and for throwing, if they're getting better.

Missionary Society Changes Name, Scope

The Women's Missionary Society of St. John's Ev. Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg, unanimously adopted the name "Lutheran Church Women" in cooperation with the United Lutheran Church Women of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, at their meeting Tuesday night.

The vice president, Mrs. Almina Schmidt, presided in the absence of president Ethel Yost.

Reports were made by Mrs. Mildred Knepp and Thelma Shaw on the recent Spring meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women of the Allentown Conference which met at St. John's Ev. Lutheran Church, Mickleys, on May 2. At this meeting, Barbara DeRenier, resident director at Lutheran National Home at Washington, D. C., spoke of the progress of India and how the people of India have embraced the Christian faith and are preparing to take over the work of the missionaries. There is still a vital need for medical and professional missionaries inasmuch as the natives even though they are Christians and capable of spreading the Gospel, nevertheless are reluctant to return to the villages when once they leave, she said.

India has based her Constitution on that of the United States and one item is religious freedom, she said.

The hostesses were Mrs. Lewis Scheiler, Mrs. Isadore Gudatiss and Miss Anna Fenne and Miss Carrie Shupp.

Mrs. Horgan President Of Mt. Pocono WSCS

Mount Pocono The Women's Society for Christian Service, of the Methodist Church, met Wednesday, May 9, in the church. Mrs. Eva Taylor, the retiring president, opened the meeting, and after thanking the members for their cooperation during the past year, turned the meeting over to Rev. Edgar Hersh who installed the new officers. The president, Mrs. Patrick Horgan, appointed her committees for the year, and they proceeded to make plans.

A bake sale was planned for June 16. It is to be a 'delivered to your door' sale. Plans were made to serve at the wedding reception, for Mark Hay and Miss Beverly Holbeck of Millerton, Pa. on June 30.

A date was set for the annual Bazaar, Saturday, Aug. 18. It was decided that the meetings will be held on the second Wednesday of each month.

The officers installed were: President, Mrs. Patrick Horgan; vice president, Mrs. Alvah Mervin; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Newhart; promotion secretary, Mrs. Earl Dennis; treasurer, Mrs. David Kohn.

During the devotion, Mrs. Alvah Mervin read: "My Church" by Wm. Henry Boddy, D. D.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gerald Possinger, Miss Winifred Hay, Mrs. Ralph Hay and Mrs. Walter Schneider.

Sit-Upons, Ditty Bags, And Tea Towels

The Brownies of Troop 17 have been busy little brownies this month. Some of the girls have been making sit-upons, ditty bags, and tea towels.

They held a cook-out on May 5 at the home of Mrs. Curtis, assistant leader. All gathered fuel and wood for the fire and built their own fire circle to roast wienies and marshmallows. They had chocolate milk and "Some mores" for dessert, and played games.

The Mother's day Tea and Fly Up was held on Wednesday, May 9 at the Baptist Church at 4 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Jay Snover. At this time four brownies, Donna Goucher, Gail Smith, Katherine Smith and Janet Dowell said the girl scout laws and stepped across the stones to Mrs. Fred Fatzinger who welcomed them into Girl Scouts. They served the mothers punch and cupcakes and presented gifts, sequin covered earrings, they had made for them.

MOTHER & THE HOME

On the second Sunday every May we go all out, via a gift, to bring some pleasure into the life of the woman who makes the house a home. Nothing can take the place of a Mother's devotion and unselfish love. Therefore, in addition to a present, it would be well to reflect on the little things we could do throughout the year to make Mother's life a bit easier, a bit happier.

And, in choosing Mother's gift this year let us look a little further than to candy and flowers. Look to a gift for the home. . . a gift she will treasure for years to come. We suggest you bring Mother in to see our display of infold linoleum. She is sure to find just what she always wanted in her kitchen in the fine selection at the Monroe County General Flooring Co., 914 North Ninth Street, Stroudsburg, Phone 508-4.

Also new in our domestic department is a complete line of Callaway Terry. There are towels for both kitchen and bath, as well as aprons, placemats, and such. The bathroom sets have an adorable Coachman pattern in silhouette on a pucker-proof border. The kitchen sets have a trivet design. Bath sets are in powder blue, pink, mint, maize, rose, and white; kitchen sets come in similar pastels, red, and a deep tangerine. Terry-ly smart and utterly adorable! . . . Preserves just as good as Mom ever made, have come to Wyckoff's under the label of the Dickinson Family. Among the flavors being offered in our candy department are boysenberry, blackberry, seedless raspberries, strawberry, seedless loganberry, and black raspberries. A neat 12-oz. jar retails at 25c. Are they pure? Are they perfect? Are they the perfect consistency for your morning toast? Of course. But don't take MY word for it—let your own good taste be your guide. . . Surprise balls, also on sale in our candy department, have come out in a new guise. They are now hand puppets as well as wonderful globes that contain 12 unusual prizes and 18 games. We offer quite a selection of animals, ducks and tramps, all as exciting as any child could desire. . . I nominate as the cutest Teen-age dress of summer, an adorable size 8 of a glorious blue Lucina combed cotton, with three spaghetti-thin straps over each shoulder, a softly shirred bodice vertically tucked, fitted midriff, and full skirt. It's a size 8 at $3.98. The same style comes in yellow, size 14, and orchid, size 12. Here is the dress that could make a beauty of the boy-still, I'm sure.

Local Student Named Historian Of Honor Society

Mrs. Carolyn Leann Gruen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leann, RD. 3, Stroudsburg, has been elected historian of the Delta Zeta Chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, a national honor society in English, at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Mrs. Gruen was graduated from Stroudsburg High School in 1951 and is now attending the State Teachers College in East Stroudsburg, where she is making a secondary education in English and social studies. While in college, she has been a member of Mack and Zany, World Outlook, and the college choir, and has been named to the recently organized Stroud Yearbook staff for 1957.

What a mad scramble getting Monday morning's radio program on the air! If it hadn't been for Joe Webster answering our desperate SOS, our Wyckoff breakfast guests would have received their Monroe County Kitchen Tour awards without benefit of an audience. And if it hadn't been for Larry Levy, leaving his studio and rushing up at a moment's notice, those smiles of victory would never have been captured for posterity. For all the hitches, however, I'm told it was a very good program, not without its moments of drama.

Mrs. Jack Mullins, winner of the thirty dollar first prize, had the most unusual answer when asked what about her lovely kitchen means the most to her. "The named AA prayer," she said. "I thought this is a particularly wonderful answer for I'd rather imagined she might say 'The laundry concealed by lavender doors' or 'The big clothes closet' or any one of a dozen other original features. But Kathryn, I feel, has done far more for the beauty and tranquility of her home than merely express her personality in ingenious decor. She has worked hard at giving her home a spiritual nucleus — a force that, upon looking back, seemed to dominate many of the dwellings opened to the public during the two-day tour.

We are pleased the tour was such a successful endeavor, both from the standpoint of a financial return for the Monroe County Home Association and the pleasure afforded hostesses and visitors alike. It was a great privilege to work with Mrs. Claude Leister, president of the sponsoring Stroudsburg Woman's Club and her committee. I join with my boss, Mr. E. H. Wyckoff, in regretting that not everyone could win a prize. So far as I can see, everyone deserved one . . . but then, each of the hostesses has a prize supreme in the remarkably efficient kitchen that is the heart of her home.

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL! Strip of sheets for twin beds! Up until now we've carried doubles only—but something new has been added to our shelves in the popular smaller size. The price is 2.98, and the colors blue, yellow, green, and to my way of thinking—the prettiest of all, rose pink. Use these with matching cases as your entire bed ensemble for summer.

FOR THE LIFE of us we can't figure why the Stroudsburg High sports team go by the nickname of Mountaineers. It is true that the local educational plant is situated in the Poconos but after watching the Varsity "S" Club of the school paint up new members and hand over a blanket award to the new "chief," Robert Phillips, we are sure Indians, Tribe, or Warriors would be more appropriate.

All kidding aside though, the initiation ceremonies and a presentation of the award to the boy who was named by the "S" membership for top honors was run off in pro-like fashion.

Frank (Junior) Radler, club president, handed the M. C. duties as efficiently as he does throwing his portside stuff at "Mountaineer" opponents.

Jess Haynes, Stroudsburg auto dealer, did more than take in the sessions of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association Conference at Buck Hill yesterday.

In a golf tournament for members of the P.A.A. Haynes sharpened his golf game enough to capture one of the prizes in the links run-off for auto dealers.

Andy Leh, the oldest football coach in point of service in the Lehigh Valley, will still keep his hands in the football pie at Nazareth High School.

In a not too surprising move but somewhat startling from the point of discussions with men supposedly in the know in the Blue Eagles lair, Leh was named athletic director and junior football varsity coach at Nazareth.

Leh, who has been at Nazareth for 30 years and has compiled a 160-won 73-loss record while tutoring the Eagles gridmen, took the place of Guy Cump as athletics head.

Named to replace Leh as varsity head coach was Edward Christman, formerly the jayvee mentor.

It has been no secret that Leh had planned to step down as varsity grid mentor. This he did last winter. And it also was no "off the record" statement that the dean of IX scholastic was in line for the directorship. But it was surprising to hear that the Nazareth "institution" would take on junior varsity grid duties.

Leh is to Nazareth, what the late Knute Rockne was and is to Notre Dame—a deeply embedded pillar in Blue Eagle sports history. Apparently the administrative heads of the borough don't intend to ever let the foundation shake loose.

"The Happy Seven," a golfing group from the area turned in some good scores while chipping away at the Indian Mountain Golf Course, Kresgeville, this past week end.

The unit—Alvin Transue, Clint Baecker, Sonny Landis, Frank Bell, Maurice Metzgar, Sammy Ellingwood and Wayne Metzgar—are steady week end linksmen at Alex Traycheck's layout.

Monroe County "Hot Doggie" League, a softball circuit, composed of teams that play the game strictly for fun, named Sam Puzio, East Stroudsburg, grill owner, commissioner.

Sam's duties will be to see to it that enough players show up for each game.

Supreme Court Upholds Ban Imposed By AAU On Santee

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—West Santee's hopes of regaining his amateur status and running in the Olympic games apparently were crushed today when the state Supreme Court upheld the lifetime suspension imposed on the great Kansas miler by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Justice Walter A. Lynch, who handed down a biting opinion after six weeks' deliberation, also rapped the knuckles of amateur officials who seek to capitalize on sports stars.

"He (Santee) has eliminated himself as an amateur athlete," Justice Lynch said, "but not without the aid of some of the guardians of amateur athletics."

The justice added: "Promoters of amateur athletic meets should realize that while Santee, by his conduct, disqualified himself from amateur competition, the fault lies in no small part with them as a class."

"The records show that in their desire for larger gate receipts some promoters have sought to capitalize on the athletic ability of such stars as Santee. From this unfortunate incident some good may come to amateur athletics in the United States."

May End Battle

The decision may have brought an end to the prolonged court fight which followed Santee's suspension last Feb. 19 on charges that he took money above allowable expenses for competing in track meets.

Mays, Mueller Snap Slumps In Giant Win

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Willie Mays and Don Mueller broke out of prolonged batting slumps with a total of six hits, including a home run each, today and ended the New York Giants' four-game losing streak with a 6-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Johnny Antonelli, who pitched hitless ball through the first four innings, had to put down a late Chicago rally to gain his second pitching triumph of the season against three defeats. Warren Hacker was the loser.

Who Hitting .209

Mays, who entered the game batting .209, blasted two singles in addition to his home run and accounted for two runs. Mueller, batting .256, matched Mays' homer in the third inning in addition to getting a single in the first and a double in the seventh, each scoring Mays.

Mays' home run, his fourth of the season, was a blast which landed against the facade of the left field stands to open the third. Shortly afterwards Mueller lined one into the lower right field stands. It was his first of the season.

Other Giant Run

The other Giant run came in the seventh, Alvin Dark scoring after hitting a single, going to third on Mays' single and scoring home on an infield out by Daryl Spencer.

The Cubs started getting to Antonelli in the fifth and climaxed their late bid in the ninth when Ernie Banks hit his eighth home run of the year into the upper left field stands, scoring Frank Keller, who had singled, ahead of him.

Chicago got a run in the first on two walks and a single by Walt Moryn and another in the sixth when Keller boomed a triple after Gene Baker had singled.

Three Repeaters On Rifle Team

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Three repeaters from last year made the 1956 All-America intercollegiate rifle team announced today by the National Rifle Assn.

Richard T. Dixon of Los Angeles, who won the individual college championship while firing for UCLA, led the 10-man group. Dixon also had been named in 1955, as had Robert B. McMillan, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, who shot for the University of Akron, and John C. Herr, Shippensburg, Pa., and Carnegie Tech.

Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney, said that while there were further legal steps he might take he didn't know yet whether they would be pursued.

Santee, a Marine lieutenant stationed at Quantico, Va., said he expected the opinion to be "more severe" and added that Justice Lynch "pointed out things we have been pointing out," in reference apparently to track meet promoters. He said he disagreed with the justice's assertion that he "failed to follow the rules."

Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, expressed himself as "gratified" over the decision but said there would be no other official comment until the text of the opinion had been studied.

Justice Lynch hit at Santee for failing to take the stand in his own behalf "when confronted by his accusers in the forum" and said the runner failed to answer charges that he violated the rules and regulations of the AAU.

He said evidence that Santee engaged a booking agent and demanded excessive expenses for both himself and his wife "foreclose any serious consideration of his plea that he was harshly or unfairly dealt with."

"His repentance—if any, and the court thinks there is none—comes too late," the justice added. Santee was specifically charged with expense account irregularities totalling around $1,500 in seven 1955 meets, including three big California events.

Dodgers Buy Old Nemesis Sal Maglie

BROOKLYN, May 15 (AP)—The Dodgers today purchased Sal (The Barber) Maglie, veteran right handed pitcher and their old Giant nemesis, from the Cleveland Indians and sold Right Hander Jim Hughes to the Chicago Cubs. Both were straight cash deals for undisclosed amounts.

Maglie, 39 years old, has a lifetime major league pitching record of 95 victories and 41 defeats—and 23 of those victories were at the expense of the Dodgers. The Indians bought him from the Giants last July but he has seen little action for them.

Hughes, who spent part of last season at St. Paul, is 33 years old. He has been with the Dodgers off and on since 1952. During the 1954 season he set a Brooklyn record by appearing in 60 games, winning eight and losing four.

There was nothing to do but wait, and stare at some of the memories of 33 years in the U.S. Senate.

Bloomsburg Favored To Cop Crown

JOHNSTOWN, Pa.—Bloomsburg is favored to win the championship of the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Baseball Conference which comes to a close this week. The Huskies moved closer to the title by blanking the usually powerful West Chester Teachers, 11-0, last week to remain undefeated in league action.

Bloomsburg is host to Kutztown today and will travel to Lock Haven on Friday. Doe Wagner's Huskies blanked Lock Haven, 8-0, last month. Bloomsburg and Lock Haven shared the championship last season.

The Indiana-California double-header Saturday was rained out and cancelled.

If Bloomsburg splits in its remaining two games, and if either Kutztown or Millersville loses its two remaining games, Indiana could win the title, providing, of course, that Indiana defeats Clarion as expected.

Standings:

	W	L	Rating
Bloomsburg	4	0	.225
Lock Haven	3	1	.110
Shippensburg	3	3	.107
Millersville	2	3	.110
West Chester	1	3	.100

West Chester 1:1 Shippery Rock 1:1, East Stroudsburg 1:1, Clarion 9:2 and Mansfield 6:2 do not yet have required minimum of four conference games to be considered for championship under Sayor system of ratings.

Blaik Seeking QB, Plans No Experiments

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.
WEST POINT, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—There'll be no more great experiments for Red Blaik—he wants to remain normal.

The Army football coach, who recently shepherded his 1956 squad through spring practice, still is looking for a first-rate quarterback, but he's not trying to convert a player who is used to another position.

Blaik, you remember, made the "great experiment" of the 1955 season when he switched Don Hollender, a potential All-America end, to the quarterback spot to fill a gaping hole. He got away with it, beating Navy and five out of eight other opponents. But the strain must have been terrific.

"We're still struggling hard to find a quarterback," Blaik said today, "but I've had enough experiments. It's hard in the limited time we have to make one. And I don't have another athlete with so much ability."

"We have a quarterback, Dave Bourland, who didn't play much last year—about 5 minutes really. He seemed to be the farthest along during spring practice. Then there are two others, both left handed, who have some way to go. I guess we just ran out of quarterback material—we lost some and none came in."

Rowing Picture In U.S. Good

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Cornell and Yale are good and confident of Navy's Admirals are coming.

All adds up to a very fine picture," said Clifford (Tip) Goe, chairman of the U. S. Olympic Rowing Committee, today. "I still say that we have five eights that are better than what Russia showed in winning the European championship last summer. And our small boats will be the best we've ever had."

"Now all we have to do is collect the remaining $25,000 for our Olympic budget of $92,000 and we'll be all set," said Goe at a rowing luncheon. "The response has been very good so far and we hope to get the rest before the Olympic trials at Syracuse, June 28-30."

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, under the provisions of the Public Utility Law, by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company for an order evidencing the Commission's approval of the alteration of the crossing at grade by the construction of an additional track across the intersection of Burton Street and Lackawanna Avenue to serve the property of Line Material Co. in the Borough of East Stroudsburg, Monroe County.

A public hearing upon this application will be held Monday, May 28, 1956, at 10:00 a.m. in the Courtroom at Stroudsburg, where and where all persons in interest may appear and be heard, if they so desire.

NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given pursuant to Section 11 of the Act of June 25, 1947, P. L. 1145, its amendments, and the provisions of the School District of East Stroudsburg, Monroe County, Penna., that a public hearing will be held on May 22, 1956, at 8 o'clock P. M. in the Board of Directors' office, to consider and act upon a proposed amendment to the School District's Charter, which would change the time of the annual meeting of the Board of Directors from the first Monday of May to the first Monday of June, 1956, and from the first Monday of June to the first Monday of July, 1957. The reason which in the judgment of the Board of Directors of the School District of East Stroudsburg, necessitates the amendment is that the present revenues of the School District are not sufficient for the operation of the School.

The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from this tax is the sum of $17,400.00.

By order of the Board of Directors:

FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Watch your step this Friday. But don't let your consideration of details before reaching decisions. Be a good listener; you can gain some valuable information. Avoid worry.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—The road of least resistance may not be the right or productive one. Don't waste time on non-essentials. Brighten routine through a novel twist. Consultation of friends is advised.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—A tendency to be indifferent to your responsibilities and duties may lead to a loss of respect from others. Remember that others judge you by your actions. Results will be commensurate with the energy you extend in right directions. Maintain poise.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—Ambitious people should provide renewed incentive now. Research, mining, construction, investment, and community affairs especially sponsored.

July 22 to August 21 (Leo)—Caution! Don't plunge ahead without some coordination of program. Baby's influence call for alert, precise action. You are seldom as effective as the mediocre, but do avoid strain.

Sale Of Arms To Israel Causes Confusion

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

The strange situation in which the United States approves shipments of arms to Israel by her allies but refuses to do so herself has its roots in the cold war with Russia.

American authorities are convinced that one of the chief Russian motives in insinuating herself into the Middle East last year was to force the United States to choose sides. By selling arms to Egypt, the Reds insured that if the United States did choose sides, she would stand with Israel and alienate the Arabs.

Washington refused to accept the gambit. Outside of a few small prior commitments, she embargoed the shipment of arms either to Israel or to the Arab states. She expected Iraq, which is a member of the Baghdad Pact, and which has held aloof from the Palestine dispute.

Waiting

This was done while waiting for evidence as to whether Communist arms shipments actually were upsetting the balance of power. So far, the swing has not been decisive.

In the meantime Russia, seeing that her actions had produced a serious war threat, has changed her tune. She has promised to go along with United Nations mediation efforts, and offers to join an international arms embargo. That cut the rug right out from under Egypt's aggressiveness, leaving Col. Nasser in grave doubt about how far Moscow was ready to go.

The American tactic left Russia to stew in the juices of her own creation, and the Reds had to back down. To that extent, the equivocation policy has proven successful.

There is a question whether it will remain so under its extension to cover Allied arms sales to Israel while continuing to refuse direct American shipments.

As things now stand, the United States is permitting her allies, particularly France, to deliver arms from NATO. After that, if France sends them to Israel, it is theoretically an action which does not involve the United States.

Russia has contended throughout that she is not involved in the sale of Czech arms to Egypt. Both those positions are unrealistic.

But the attitude in Washington is that the Middle East situation is fluid.

A year ago Russia was not in the Middle East. Now she is. Ultimate results cannot yet be envisioned. The United States is trying to maintain neutrality, trying to be available if there is a possibility of acting as a friend of both sides, and playing the day by day situation by ear.

Since the situation changes almost day by day, the tune may not follow a continuous theme, and that's why it sometimes sounds so confusing.

Here's Where the New Ideas Come From...

General Motors' new Technical Center—largest of its kind in the world—employs 4,000 engineers, scientists and stylists. These vast resources combine with Pontiac's own ultramodern engineering facilities to bring you America's greatest automobile value—Pontiac, a General Motors Masterpiece.

Watch "Wide, Wide World"—NBC-TV, Sunday, May 20—report on GM's new Technical Center.

...and Here's Where they GO!

"CAN YOU SEE, STEER, STOP SAFELY?...
CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS."

You'll know the engineers have been up to something special the first time you ask this long, low beauty for action, for here's "go", you can't get anywhere else.

The "go" of the newest in high-compression, high-torque engines—Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8, so advanced and so efficient it delivered more actual miles per gallon than any other "eight" in the Mobilgas Economy Run!

The "go" of the newest in automatic transmissions—Pontiac's Strato-Flight Hydramatic*, specially engineered for Strato-Streak power and smooth as silk at any speed!
